

TCDSB'S UNSUNG HEROES

December 2022

Margot Federau, Education Assistant, St. Joseph's College School

To call Ms. Federau an essential part of the ME/DD support team would be an understatement. She teaches first by example and brings professionalism, expertise, knowledge and care in her role as an Educational Assistant at St. Joseph's College School. With much thanks to her dedication, many of the students in her classroom have advanced their self-advocacy, academic, fine motor and gross motor skills in part because of her supportive guidance. Ms. Federau also goes above and beyond by supporting the St. Joseph's swim team, which includes one of her star students whom she supports from the ME/DD room. As someone who embodies the Catholic Graduate expectations in the way she supports and teaches her students, Ms. Federau is 100% self-directed, responsible and forever a life-long learner who demonstrates respect for every single person, from every walk of life, both staff and students alike.

Carlos Pereira, Senior Print Clerk, Catholic Education Centre

As the Senior Print Clerk at the TCDSB's Print Shop, Carlos Pereira serves the diverse print needs of nearly 200 schools, along with the specific needs of our central departments – it certainly would be hard to do the job without his dedicated support. From posters to brochures to course calendars to signage and everything in between, Carlos with the support of his colleagues ensures that everyone's projects are high quality and on time. The print process isn't always smooth sailing, but whenever staff run into trouble Carlos is always the first person to step up and assist – and is sure to crack a joke or make you smile while he's at it. We are all tremendously grateful to have Carlos serve the greater TCDSB community!

Adrienne Sunga and Sanga Easwaran, Website Officers – Communications Department, Catholic Education Centre

Our Toronto Catholic District School Board public website is often the first touchpoint and the first impression to many parents, students and stakeholders. As Website Officers within the Communications department, Adrienne and Sanga work tirelessly and collaboratively with principals, academic teams and central office staff to ensure we present the best first impression and experience to our users online. In their crucial role of making sure the TCDSB website provides accurate, relevant and timely information to the public, their professionalism, work ethic and positive demeanour prove to be valuable and integral contributions to the continuing success of the TCDSB community. We are thankful for their dedicated service and endless support.
